

Appraiser List

The Racine Art Museum is often asked to evaluate works of art. As a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization, RAM is forbidden from doing so. There are many professional appraisers in the region and beyond—the following names are provided as a resource for those desiring to contact them. Many of them can do appraisals from photographs if you live out of this area. To do so, they need high quality images showing detail and information on points of interest such as any inscriptions or provenance information, documentation by artist, framing labels, exhibition labels, dimensions, location of signature and date, and any condition or restoration reports.

This list of appraisers is provided for your convenience and is not endorsed by the Racine Art Museum.
