Paper Peace Dove Mobile

Inspired by civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and his life's work, this paper peace dove mobile is an engaging way to commemorate King's positive impact on the world.

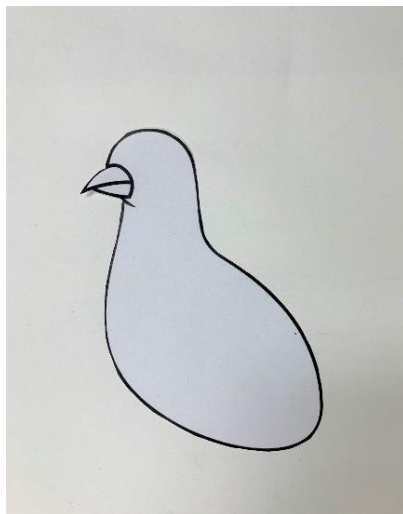

Supplies

- Dove body template (print the third page of this document)
- Blank, white sheet of 8 1/2 x 11 inch paper
- Scissors
- Drawing tools such as markers, crayons, or color pencils
- String, yarn, or ribbon
- Tape or hole puncher

Directions

1. Print page 3 of this document and cut out the outline of the dove's body.
2. Use your drawing tools to decorate the dove with designs of your choice—try thinking of ways to represent peacefulness or unity.
3. Cut a one-inch slit at the center of the body.

4. Fold your blank sheet of paper accordion-style to create wings for the dove, then unfold it.
5. Color the wings with any design of your choice.
6. Refold the wings then slide them into the slit you cut in the center of the body.
7. Punch a hole directly above the wings using a hole puncher, then loop your string or ribbon through it to hang your paper peace dove mobile. Likewise, you can tape the string above the wings if you don't have a hole puncher.
