

Wustum art museum reopens in Racine

Aug 28, 2020

SALE! Subscribe for $1/mo.

1 of 5

Caroll A. Pearson's "Spheres" is featured in the Wisconsin Photography 2020 exhibit at Racine's Wustum Museum of Fine Arts.

Contributed, Regional News

RACINE — Now, the public can visit Wustum Museum of Fine Arts and see the work of two area photographers.

The Wisconsin Photography 2020 exhibit features photos from Lake Geneva's Carroll A. Pearson and Burlington's Marni Hills.

The exhibit opens Wednesday, Sept. 2, alongside the museum, which closed its doors back in March due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Located at 2519 Northwestern Ave., Racine, the museum resumes operations with limited hours, each Wednesday through Saturday from noon to 4 p.m.

Recently, the Racine Art Museum also reopened at 441 Main St.

To promote safe social distancing, Wustum is limiting the number of guests to 25 people at a time.

Museum staff established in-depth sanitation procedures for both public and private spaces to ensure a safe environment for guests.

Public spaces are cleaned each morning, prior to opening. High-contact items such as door handles and counter tops are sanitized multiple times throughout the day.

Staff and visitors to RAM's Wustum Museum are required to wear a face mask at all times.

Wisconsin Photography 2020 is a statewide competition organized by the Racine Art Museum since 1979.

The biennial exhibition features 85 pieces from 30 Wisconsin photographers, and will be shown through Nov. 28.

This year, the juried exhibition received 1,040 pieces from 104 artists. Lisa Volpe, associate curator of photography at the Museum of Fine Arts in Houston, Texas, is the exhibition juror.

A virtual opening reception and awards ceremony for the exhibition is Tuesday, Sept. 1, at 6 p.m.

It will be held via Zoom. Visit ramart.org to find the link in order to participate.

More information about safety protocols and current exhibitions can be found at ramart.org.

Image gallery +21 Vintage newspaper ads from 1955 in Lake Geneva

Hillmoor Ad

